

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Steve King (R-IA) today called upon Attorney General Eric Holder to immediately make the DOJ's "draft complaint" challenging Arizona's immigration law public.

"President Obama has ordered Attorney General Eric Holder to use the Department of Justice in an attempt to invalidate Arizona's illegal-immigration enforcement law," said King

□ "The ACLU, SEIU and the Muslim American Society are calling the shots at the Justice Department. □ The 'draft complaint' DOJ has prepared to challenge the Arizona law is a 'cut & paste' version of the class-action lawsuit the ACLU filed in United States District Court on May 17th."

No other conclusion could be reached unless Holder releases the Department's 'draft complaint.' But when it becomes public, all of America will know what I know today. The ACLU and their radical affiliates are dictating the policy of the White House and the Department of Justice." □
