

Washington D.C.- Congressman Steve King (R-IA) released the following statement after attending the State of the Union address this evening.

"The President talked about expanding 'investments' in some things such as education and infrastructure but the word 'investments' is still the word that means 'spending,'" said King.

"The President has proven beyond a doubt that his huge Keynesian economic experiment has failed. The economic stimulus plan failed. He's still trying to spend more money. We need to take the shovel out of the President's hands and stop his spending."
