Washington, DC- Congressman Steve King released the following statement after congratulating Madison Clark of Council Bluffs, Iowa on winning the Fifth District Congressional Art Competition today. Clark's piece, "Abigail," a drawing of her best friend, was selected by a panel of judges from western Iowa and will be displayed for one year in the U.S. Capitol alongside the winning selections from other Congressional Districts across the country. Each winner is given airfare for two to visit Washington, DC for an awards ceremony. Clark aspires to attend art school after she graduates from high school next year.
