Washington, DC- Congressman Steve King released the following statement to mark the 40th anniversary of the largest human rights demonstration in the world, the March for Life rally:

Iowans watch a video of Congressman King at a reception hosted by the Congressman's office today following the annual March for Life.

"I commend the tens of thousands of Americans who came from Iowa and across the country to Washington today and sacrificed to show their support for innocent human life," said King. "We must not allow ourselves to be discouraged, because we understand that life, even in its beginning form, is sacred. We must pray for a time when Roe v. Wade is overturned and our laws will once again reflect our pro-life beliefs. This movement must be alive in our hearts and expressed through our actions. This is why we march."
